

CrossRoads

A program from Interim HealthCare®

For aging adults, relocating from their home to a facility — whether it's independent living, assisted living or long-term care — the initial days represent CrossRoads in their life experience. As one of America's most trusted and experienced providers of in-home care, Interim HealthCare understands the challenges your new residents face and we can make the transition period a little easier. More importantly, our trained Care Professionals can provide support to your existing staff by extending our personal care companion services to your residents.

Let Interim HealthCare make the transition easier.

We will —

- Meet and greet your new residents and/or their family.
- Conduct preliminary needs assessments and care plans.
- Make new residents feel welcome and comfortable upon arrival.
- Help identify activities and interests important to new residents.
- Help organize and store new resident's personal belongings.
- Help identify areas of common interest with other residents.
- Maintain appropriate ongoing communication with new residents.

And you'll enjoy —

- No interruption in your daily workflow.
- Keeping your personnel on-task and where their skills are needed.
- An easier transition for your newest residents.
- Assured, confident loved ones and families.
